January 2023

Happy New Year!

Wishing all our families a very happy new year and hoping that 2023 is a year full of kindness, happiness and optimism for everyone.

Please remember that if you have any concerns regarding your child's mental health and wellbeing don't hesitate to talk to your Child's Class teacher, Mrs Haskins (Additional Needs Leader) or Mrs Leeson (Assistant Headteacher responsible for Pupil Welfare).

At St Andrew's, we are able to offer a wide range of pastoral support for children who are encountering emotional difficulties.

Five Ways to Wellbeing

Research has shown that there are five actions we should all do more of to boost our wellbeing and improve our mood. They are simple ways that can make a difference to the way children feel, think and react to life's ups and downs.

This term we are focusing on the 'Keep Learning' strand from the 5 ways to wellbeing.

Ways to keep learning...

Learning is a powerful way to improve and maintain our wellbeing. It does this by boosting our self-confidence, self-esteem and gives us a sense of achievement! Learning can also be fun!

Here are some ideas of how you can keep learning...

- Research some fun facts online.
- Learn to play an instrument or how to cook your favourite food.
- Set a challenge you will enjoy achieving.
- Discover a really long word and find out what it means. Why not try to get it into a conversation?
- Complete a wordsearch or puzzle that you have not done before.
- Try writing a short story, comic book or poem to share with your friends and family.

January Blues

January can often be a difficult month for many people—Christmas is over, the weather is cold with winter stretching ahead of us still and the nights are longer. Many of the things that we do to cheer ourselves up (walks in the countryside, outdoor exercise, playing in the park, enjoying the sunshine...) are all harder to achieve. However, there are some ways that we can help ourselves beat those 'January Blues'. See the tips below for some ideas to try out.

You are more likely to stay eating healthier if you have a treat during the week. Remember to also include Vitamin D into your diet to boost your mood.

Reading has many health benefits. So why not making reading a necessity not just a luxury!

Do something new, perhaps get creative? Paint, draw, write or begin a new hobby.

How to Beat the January Blues!

Why not take a walk and take notice of your surroundings? This not only has great physical health benefits but mental health benefits too!

One great way to improve wellbeing and mood is exercise. Exercise doesn't have to mean going to the gym, it could be a nice bike ride, or taking part in some yoga or pilates.

Take time out for you! Even if it's 10 minutes, just take the time to have a rest and enjoy your cuppa.

Message in a Bottle (With a twist!)

What are you most looking forward to this year? As a family, write down 2 or 3 (or more!) things that you are looking forward to in 2023. You can do this collectively or have individual ideas. Then roll them up and put them in a bottle. You can check these at the end of the year. It's good to look forward to things and have dreams!

Recommendation:

The Boy, the Mole, the Fox and the Horse

A story of kindness, friendship, courage and hope for viewers of all ages in a heart-warming hand-drawn animated film based on the children's book by Charlie Mackesy.

(Available on BBC iPlayer)

"What do you want to be when you grow up?"

"Kind" said the boy

Student Wellbeing Champions' Section:

This term, as part of our focus on 'Keep Learning' the Student Wellbeing Champions would like to invite children in EYFS, KS1 and KS2 to talk about one of their interests / hobbies during either our 'Cheery Tuesdays' or 'Thoughtful Thursdays' Collective Worship. Your child may want to share with others information about a club that they participate in outside of school e.g. Swimming Club, Tennis Club, Brownies or Cubs or talk about a new hobby e.g. learning to play an instrument, cooking or sewing. They may want to bring in relevant items to show.

Children will be encouraged to speak to either their Class teacher, Mrs Haskins or a Student Wellbeing Champion if they would like get involved, and parents /carers will be notified of the date.

We are hoping that over the term a wide range of hobbies, interests and clubs are show cased.
